Don't Let Mechanical Material Mishandling Leave Your Facility Amputated

Adopting Sentry's recommended procedures can help you reduce your material handling exposures.

Sentry is a leading provider of insurance and safety services for the metalworking industry. Put our expertise to work for you. Sentry's experienced safety professionals recommend that metalworking customers adopt specific prevention procedures covering:

- Forklifts, motorized hand trucks and order-pickers
- Crane and hoist safety procedures
- Precautions of property and surroundings
- Energy and fuel practices
- Sling safety

These recommendations, designed to help you reduce your claims, are detailed in Sentry Solutions – The Guide to Mechanical Material Handling.

With Sentry's help, you'll spend less time worrying about material mishandling and more time focusing on running your business successfully.

Claim File

An employee was driving a stand-up forklift. Witnesses indicated that he lost control of the forklift, which slammed into a stationary I-beam. The employee's lower left leg, which had been dangling alongside the forklift, was severely crushed. Doctors had to amputate his leg below the knee. The employee did not return to work for seven months after the injury.
