Don't Let Mechanical Material Mishandling Leave Your Facility Amputated

Adopting Sentry's recommended procedures can help you reduce your material handling exposures.

Sentry is a leading provider of insurance and safety services for the food processing industry. Put our expertise to work for you.

Sentry's experienced safety professionals recommend that food processors adopt material handling procedures covering:

- Forklifts, motorized hand trucks and order-pickers
- Crane and hoist safety procedures
- Protection of property and surroundings
- Energy and fuel practices
- Slings safety

These recommendations, designed to help you reduce your claims, are detailed in Sentry Solutions – The Guide to Mechanical Material Handling.

With Sentry's help, you'll spend less time worrying about material mishandling and more time focusing on running your business successfully.

Visit us at sentry.com for more information on reducing risks associated with your business.

Claim File

A warehouse employee incorrectly placed a pallet load of cased product in a high rack storage area. Some time later, a single case fell from the rack and landed on an employee walking by the rack. The result was a severely injured employee who required hospitalization for an extended period of time.
