Don't Let Manual Material Mishandling Leave Your Facility Flat on Its Back

Adopting Sentry's recommended procedures can help you reduce your material mishandling exposures.

Sentry is a leading provider of insurance and safety services for the food processing industry. Put our expertise to work for you.

Sentry's experienced safety professionals recommend that food processors adopt material mishandling prevention procedures covering:

- Manual lifting, safety and back injury prevention
- Housekeeping and floor maintenance
- Job safety and hazard analysis
- Job rotation and enlargement
- Employee wellness, exercise and stretching programs

These recommendations, designed to help you reduce your claims, are detailed in Sentry Solutions – The Guide to Manual Material Handling.

With Sentry's help, you'll spend less time worrying about material mishandling and more time focusing on running your business successfully.

Visit us at sentry.com for more information on reducing risks associated with your business.

Claim File

A baking operation employee was moving product cartons on to storage shelves when he experienced back pain. He reported the incident immediately and tried to return to work the next day, but his back pain continued. Two emergency back surgeries were needed to correct a herniated disc. Medical bills, lost time and indemnity payments totaled more than $250,000.
